

Peer Review: Assignment 1

Date:

Writer:

Reader:

Read through your peer's paper once without any marking utensils in hand. Then answer these questions with referring back to the paper:

1. Where do you notice good moments of close analysis (detail-oriented exposition)? Go through the paper and mark these moments with a check mark.
2. Where do you notice good moments of synthesis (broader statements about how the elements of close analysis fit together/how this passage fits into the text as a whole)? Go through the paper and mark these moments with a star.
3. Where do you notice successful transitions? Go through the paper and mark these transitions with an arrow.
4. Outline the writer's paper. Using key phrases, how does the writer progress through their paper? Does the structure of the paper make sense to you? Does it move conceptually or categorically? How might the structure be rearranged or elaborated on to make more sense?

5. Do you feel that the author uses an adequate amount of the cited passage? Does the paper address the passage in its entirety, or is a significant amount left out? Would you recommend lengthening/cutting any of the chosen passage? How, if so?

6. Place a check mark below next to the technical requirements fulfilled by the author:

Name in upper left-hand corner

Assignment title in upper left-hand corner

Date in upper left-hand corner

Title bolded in top-center

Page number in bottom right corner

Passage is reproduced below the title

Passage preserves formal elements of original

Passage is correctly cited in footnote according to the Chicago Manual of Style 17

Essay is in Times New Roman 12pt font

Essay is single-spaced

Essay has 1" margins

Essay is left-adjusted

7. List below any additional questions, comments, or suggestions you have for the writer.